"KAY" SWISHER DIES AT 10; WAS ILL 18 MONTHS

Little Kathryn Irene "Kay" Swisher, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Swisher, Fairfield R. D., died at the University of Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, Wednesday morning at 8:10 o'clock.

The youngster, who had been a hospital patient for 18 months with a rheumatic heart and had become a favorite at the Warner hospital during the 15 months she was there, because of her cheery good humor despite her illness, was moved to the University of Pennsylvania hospital three months ago.

Death Hovered Long Time

Death hovered close to the girl throughout the 18-month period. The Gettysburg Lions club, when it was believed that she could not survive until Christmas, held an early Christmas party for her and presented her with a record player and a number of records and other toys.

She thoroughly enjoyed the records and played them for herself and other youngsters who were patients in the children's ward while she was there.

The youngster had been able to go home for her birthday, and the Lions, when they held the "premature" Christmas party for her, told her the gifts were a "belated birthday gift," given because she was at home on her actual birthday and the Lions wanted to hold a birthday party for her at the hospital.

Funeral Saturday

When Christmas came and the child was still at the hospital, the nurses, staff and parents arranged for a complete "Christmas," with trees and gifts for the youngster.

Surviving are her parents, Scott and Mildred Emory Swisher; four sisters, Betty Naomi, Nancy Lee, Janet Marie and Doris Ann, all at home; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Swisher, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Emory, Greenstone.

Funeral services Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the Allison funeral home, Fairfield, with the Rev. Leonard Falk officiating. Interment in the Fairfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday after 7 o'clock.

EMMITSBURG'S HOMECOMING TO RUN TO SEPT. 8

Following the report of the carnival committee at the united meeting of all Old Home Week and carnival committees at the fire hall Wednesday night it was definitely decided to continue the carnival and celebrations opening Thursday, August 30, through to Saturday, September 8.

The Emmitsburg Old Home Week and carnival will open officially August 30 with what promises to be one of the biggest parades ever held in Emmitsburg. The parade committee chairman, John S. Hollinger, reported that all arrangements have been made with the judges and that entries are being received for the parade "at an encouraging rate."

The food concession was placed in the hands of the Ladies' Auxiliaries of the Emmitsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. They will serve seafoods, sandwiches, barbecue, soups and coffee every evening except Sunday from August 30 through September 8.

Arrangements have been made by the carnival committee for a number of different types of rides and concessions for the entire nine days of the carnival. The entertainment committee reported that since the carnival was extended to run for nine days it would be necessary to provide additional entertainment to what was already secured. The entertainment committee was authorized to arrange for entertainment for each night including Emmitsburg's old time band directed by Mr. Simpson and Ralph McDonnell's Hillbilly band. The Chautauqua Home Talent show dates were changed from Thursday and Friday, August 30 and 31, to Thursday and Friday, September 6 and 7.

Need More Turtles

Edgar Emrich, in charge of the turtle racing contest, announced that he needed more turtles.

The window decorations of historical displays at the business places was discussed and a strong feeling was shown for interest and participation in this part of the celebration. Every business place in the town is urged to participate and offer window space and assist the committee in securing the historical articles and in arranging the displays. Mrs. Robert Daugherty was made co-chairman along with Mrs.

M'PHERSON TO DRAFT TAX BILL

Senator Donald P. McPherson, Jr., of Gettysburg has been named one of a committee of six in the Pennsylvania Senate to draft a substitute tax program to replace Gov. John S. Fine's $119,000,000 flat income levy, defeated in the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday.

Others of the committee are T. Newell Wood, Luzerne, chairman; G. Graybill Diehm, Lancaster; Fred P. Hare, Jr., Somerset; Paul L. Wagner, Schuykill, and Edward B. Watson, Bucks.

A substitute program agreed upon by the Senate committee will be submitted next week to a similar group named by Republican House leaders.

McPherson and Diehm were affiliated with the 11-member "rebel" bloc, which was responsible for blocking passage of the income tax bill in the Senate after it met with House approval by a narrow margin. The other four are administration supporters. Wood also is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

It is expected that the committee will consider means of reducing the budget, and that it will consider proposals to reenact the soft drink tax bill. It is expected to lop off all but about $2,000,000 of the proposed Civil Defense allocation — Governor Fine had proposed $20,000,000.

Jacob W. Taughenbaugh, Oldest Resident Of County, Dies At 101

Jacob W. Taughenbaugh, of Hunterstown, Adams county's oldest citizen, died Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock in Cumberland township of the infirmities of age. He was 101.

Born in Straban township December 7, 1849, a son of the late Armstrong and Jane H. Campbell Taughenbaugh, he was a farmer most of his life and was a lifelong member of the Great Conewago Presbyterian church. His wife, the former Nancy Bell, died in June, 1935.

The only countian known to have lived beyond the 101st birthday in many years, he was one of the few remaining who met President Lincoln here. A frequent visitor here during the Civil War days when as a youngster he was sent to Gettysburg "to learn the news" for the Hunterstown folk, he visited here November 18, 1863, and shook hands with President Lincoln at the Wills house. The president placed his hand on the youngster's shoulder and said: "Well, Sonny, how are you?"

In 1887 he was elected sheriff of Adams county, the first Republican to gain that post in a county which was then Democratic in its politics.

He celebrated his 100th birthday in the stone farmhouse near Hunterstown where his father and grandfather were born. He was then residing with a granddaughter, Mrs. Richard Kammerer.

44 ALWINE CO. BLOOD DONORS SEND IN CARDS

Blood donor enrollment cards from 44 employes of the Alwine Brick company at New Oxford were brought in to the Adams county Red Cross chapter office on Baltimore street this morning by Paul H. Harbaugh, New Oxford blood donor recruitment chairman.

Among the volunteers is Charles E. Alwine, an official of the company who is a Gallon club member from World War II days. It was Mr. Alwine who promoted the blood donor project at his plant.

The Alwine firm has told the Red Cross that because of the heavy nature of much of the work at their plant, employes will be given time off late afternoons and will not be expected to return to the plant that day. Only a few workers can be released at a time on that basis, the company pointed out, and suggested a "blood donor evening session" so that all 44 workers could give blood at the same time.

Red Cross officials were enthusiastic about the response given the Willoughby Says High Brass Squelched His "Spy Report"

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby (graduate of Gettysburg college) testified today that higher military authority overruled him when he sought in 1949 to "unmask" a far flung Soviet spy ring.

Willoughby, former military intelligence chief under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, gave his testimony before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. It is looking into the question of whether there have been subversive influences on U.S. foreign policy.

Willoughby said "the best legal American talent in Tokyo" had approved as proper evidence a report naming writer Guenther Stein and the late Agnes Smedley as members of a Soviet spy ring in Japan.

He said Mrs. Smedley conducted "a smear campaign" against the report, which he had made public, and that "the War department public relations officer, in my recollection, and the Secretary of War's office, then under Mr. Royall" squelched the report as a result.

He said the report met a fate of "indirect repudiation" when these men "indicated this report never should have been published."

Kenneth C. Royall, now a New York and Washington lawyer, was secretary of war at the time.

"No action ever was taken," Willoughby said. "Smedley never sued for libel (as she had threatened), and the case died for lack of further attention."

The committee has taken testimony that both Mrs. Smedley and Stein were connected with the Institute of Pacific Relations, private research organization founded in the 1920s with the announced objective of studying Far Eastern problems.

Reds Ask General Ridgway To Resume Cease-Fire Sessions; Foe's Protest Called Invalid

Tokyo, Aug. 9 (AP)—Red commanders in Korea asked Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway tonight to resume cease-fire talks.

In a long delayed reply to a message Ridgway sent Tuesday, they repeated pledges they would observe the agreement neutralizing the Kaesong armistice site.

The Communist leaders told Ridgway everything would be all right "as long as you have no intention of creating incidents."

Almost simultaneously with this statement the Reds filed a new complaint that the Allies had violated the neutrality agreements.

It was an open Red violation of the neutrality zone pact that led to a break down in armistice negotiations.

Demands "Compliance"

The United Nations commander had demanded "complete compliance."

They answered today via Peiping radio: "We have already solemnly guaranteed strict adherence" to the neutrality agreement.

And they added: "We hope you will order your truce team back to Kaesong."

There was no immediate indication of when General Ridgway would reply; nor of when armistice negotiations might be resumed.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, spokesman at the U. N. "peace camp" in Korea, said "any plans for the delegation to go to Kaesong very obviously await General Ridgway's instructions."

Red China's broadcast came a few hours after Communists protested Allied planes had violated a safe conduct pledge for truce convoys.

Top Communist negotiator Lt. Gen. Nam Il, said a truce truck bearing white flags was machine-gunned Tuesday enroute from Kaesong to the Red capital at Pyongyang.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the U. N. truce delegation, promptly rejected the protest as invalid. He said Reds had not announced the time and route the truck would travel, as required.

And Joy openly wondered whether the Reds were abusing the use of white markings," supposed to be used exclusively by truce teams.

Chinese and North Korean commanders, in their message to Ridgway, said they would protest any apparent violations connected with negotiation agreements.

Their statement was a reply to a strongly worded declaration Ridgway had broadcast 51 hours earlier.

The Communist message was signed by North Korean Premier Gen. Kim Il Sung and Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, commander of Chinese forces in Korea.

Their message, as broadcast by Peiping radio, said:

Want Conference Resumed

"We have already solemnly guaranteed the strict adherence to the agreement concerning the neutralization of Kaesong and as long as you have no intention of creating incidents as measures to halt the truce conferences, we, on our side, cannot conceive of the occurrence of a situation in the future not enabling the complete enforcement of the agreement.

"We hope that you will order your representatives to come to Kaesong and continue the discussion."

The five Allied negotiators were at their "peace camp" in Korea ready to return to Kaesong if Ridgway so directs them. News correspondents near the negotiators' advance headquarters were told tonight to "stand by" and not leave their press train.

5-Day Silence

There have been no negotiations for five days. They were broken off last Sunday by General Ridgway after a company of armed Reds marched through the neutral zone Saturday. Ridgway demanded an explanation and assurances it would not happen again.

In his Tuesday message he asked still stronger assurances.

In effect, the Reds gave them today. But they did not make a direct reply. Instead they repeated assurances they gave on Monday.

In his Tuesday message Ridgway said:

"It must be clearly understood that my acceptance of a resumption of the armistice talks is conditional on complete compliance with your guarantees of neutralization of the Kaesong area, any further failure in this regard will be interpreted as a deliberate move on your part to terminate the armistice negotiations.

"I await your acceptance of this condition."

QUARRY FIRM BEGINS TEST DRILLING WORK

The Bethlehem Quarry company, which operates the limestone quarries on the Cross Keys road north of Hanover, today began drilling on the farm of Amos D. and Esther C. Shank, adjacent to the Red Hill schoolhouse, for limestone and dolomite.

Drilling followed the filing of an agreement which includes an option to purchase the Shank farm for $43,291 if exploratory drilling locates the type of rock needed by the company in sufficient quantities near enough to the surface for practical operations.

The Bethlehem Quarry company is a subsidiary of the Bethlehem Steel company, and operates the mines for the Bethlehem Limestone company, also a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel. The agreement and option was filed in the office of the register and recorder by Keith, Bigham and Markley, attorneys for the quarry company.

The agreement between the quarry company and Mr. and Mrs. Shank gives the former the right to make test drillings on the farm with diamond drills for a period of six months, with provisions for a six months' extension of the drilling period. Cores obtained by drilling will be analyzed to determine the quality of the limestone and dolomite.

Purchase Agreement

The quarry company agreed to pay the Shanks $1,000 for drilling privileges for the first six months and $250 for the second six months if

Bridges Inspected By Commissioners

The Adams county commissioners met Wednesday in their offices in the court house and transacted routine business, according to Clarence C. Smith, clerk. In the afternoon they inspected four bridges in Oxford and Union townships. The bridges were found to be in good repair, according to Mr. Smith.

the company exercises the extension, this amount to be deducted from the sale price of $43,291 if the farm is purchased. The property is in Oxford township, about a mile and a half west of the present quarry site.

If the quarry company purchases the farm, Mr. and Mrs. Shank will have the privilege of remaining on it and working it for a period to be set forth in a lease, at a rental equal to the taxes. The farm consists of 102 acres.

To Pay $425 Per Acre

The privilege given the Shanks to lease the farm and continue farming operations should the quarry company purchase the farm indicates that the Bethlehem interests do not intend to conduct immediate mining operations on it, but seek the land for future use.

The company has contacted owners of other farms in the same general area, with agreements similar to the Shank proposition, but no further "deals" have been closed yet, the attorneys said. The price, in the event the quarry company buys any of the land, will be the same for all, $425 per acre, Franklin R. Bigham said.

due to lack of support from business interests in Johnstown, and that there would be no parade and no entertainment. Business sessions only will be held October 2 and 3. The Gettysburg firemen dropped plans to attend the convention.

James S. Shenk, co-chairman of the 1951 committee in charge of the celebration of the 88th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and the firemen's carnival and block party, said no financial report of the affair could be given yet. He said there were several outstanding accounts to be settled before a report could be given.

Thanks Firemen

Mr. Shenk thanked the firemen who cooperated and worked during the celebration. "The committee was given much better cooperation this year than in the past," he said. The committee was given a rising vote of thanks. Mr. Shenk informed the meeting that because of the press of other business he would be unable to accept the chairmanship for the 1952 affair, but promised his assistance.

Vice President John Codori presided Wednesday night in the absence of President William G. Weaver. The firemen voted to hold the next meeting September 12 at the 40 and 8 chateau. The following committee was appointed to prepare the refreshments: Paul E. Anzengruber, Charles R. Baker, David L. Baker, Donald F. Baker and John H. Basehore.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Expect Crowd At Big Picnic: The 1931 annual Arendtsville community picnic will be held in the Arendtsville Union park Wednesday.

One of the largest crowds ever to attend this event is expected to be in attendance. Attendance in the past has reached as high as 1,500.

A committee of ten has been appointed as follows: Lutheran church: John Rice, Mrs. Maude Walter, Miss Catherine Wolf, J. Blaine Bushey and Charles Smith; Reformed church: Mrs. Eva Rexroth, Mrs. Blake Rice, Charles McDannell, Robert Heckenluber and Marshall Longenecker.

Miss Sara Black Finishes Course: Miss Sara Black has returned from Evanston, Illinois, where she recently completed a year's post graduate course at Northwestern university. She received her master's degree from that university.

Miss Black expects to teach in the Cheltenham high school, beginning in September.

Phantom Burglar Robs Butt Office: Between $1,000 and $1,500 worth of solid table silver and jewelry was stolen from the safe in the office of District Attorney John P. Butt on the second floor of the Compiler building, between noon and 1 o'clock, Monday afternoon.

The robbery, attributed to Gettysburg's phantom apartment house burglar, who has committed ten similar thefts within the past year, was not discovered until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon when Mr. Butt returned from attending an inquest.

The table silver had been in the Butt family for many years. All of the jewelry has been in the Butt family for years and the various pieces were considered heirlooms, the exact value of which it is difficult to estimate.

Stocks and bonds, valued at several hundred dollars, were tossed about the floor, but none of them apparently were missing.

On Vacation Trip: Mr. and Mrs. George Bender, Baltimore street, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ramer and three daughters, Chambersburg street, left Monday by motor for a ten days' vacation trip to the home of Mrs. Bender and Mrs. Ramer, at Newcastle, Indiana.

Rev. J. H. Mumper Called To Lititz: The Rev. J. Harold Mumper, pastor of the Lutheran church at Westville, New Jersey, for six years, has accepted a unanimous call as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Lititz.

School Directors Break Deadlock: The four-month deadlock on the Gettysburg school board over the election of a history teacher at the high school, was broken at the regular August meeting, Thursday evening when Miss Louise Ramer was unanimously elected to fill the position.

Doctor Crist, who voted first, nominated Miss Ramer at a salary of $1,400. Miss Ramer was one of more than 100 applicants for a position at the high school. All of the directors fell in line behind the nominating vote of Doctor Crist and she was unanimously elected.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

JUST TREES

I was standing with a friend before a great hemlock tree, and my fried casually remarked that there friend casually remarked that there tree. Never before had I looked upon a tree measuring it out in lumber, though of course I know that all our lumber comes from trees.

Later I got to thinking of the great usefulness of trees of many varieties, and what they meant to the world. We have our homes made from trees, our furniture, and this very newspaper in which this Talk is printed. In a thousand ways perhaps this tree that we look upon without thinking of its far reaching value serves mankind as few gifts from the soil do.

Even our climate is affected materially by our great forests, and in many ways are trees protectors and givers of themselves as they stand proudly and often majestically in forest, countryside and city. What a thing of beauty are the great elms that give shade and shelter in our many communities, especially the older ones.

To me it seems tragic to cut down those matchless trees of the Pacific coast that have been growing for centuries. I refer to the wonderful redwoods and sequoias. I stood before many of them a few years ago in almost a worshipful manner, so challenging did they appear to me, and how little I looked beside them.

Joyce Kilmer wrote a famous poem in which he stated that "only God could make a tree." He did not say that the tree, however, was God's masterpiece among natural creations, for God is the Creator of everything, and He is just as expert in creating a white pond lily, or a red rose, as He is in making a tree. I have often wondered why there are so many varieties of trees. Perhaps just because God had it all figured out as to the cleverness of man, and wanted to set all the materials before him, so that he would have no excuse for not creating many a thing of beauty.

The people who settled this western world came to its shores in wooden ships. They cleared the forests, making homes of the trees, then had their gardens and small communities, and later came our cities and modern world; but what a factor have our trees been in it all!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Power Of Purpose."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

"LUCKY BOY"

"You lucky boy!" the mother said.
"The Lord must love you night and morn.
A lucky star was overhead
The happy night when you were born.
Whate'er you want some friend bestows.
Whate'er you seek, you seem to find.
To you, most everybody shows
Attention of a special kind.

"Your teachers smooth the way for you.
They give you marks you didn't earn."
And now I know that that was true,
For there is much I failed to learn.
When one of several friendly men
Gave me my chance to get ahead
I well remember once again:
"You lucky boy!" the mother said.

I've never had to stand alone
In dismal moments of despair.
The only heartaches I have known
Are those that one and all must bear.
The years for me have been serene,
With friendships rich and boundless joy.
How right that prophecy has been
When mother said: "You lucky boy!"

Ravenna, Neb. (AP) — When an air force pilot faced with a forced landing circled Ravenna, he found a brightly lighted baseball field but an unlighted airport.

The unidentified pilot quickly found a solution. Flying low over the ball park, he dropped his map case with a note attached. It sent spectators speeding from the ball park to the airport where they parked their cars with headlights lighting the runway. Down came the air force plane to a perfect landing.

FELLER HURLS TRIBE INTO TOP LOOP POSITION

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bobby Feller shines like the Feller of old in Cleveland's first place surge to the top of the American league.

With 18 victories in the book, Feller is a sure shot for the 20 club. If he maintains his pace, he could equal his personal high of 27 victories in 1940. So far he's 18-4 with 49 games to play.

Feller pitched Cleveland into the lead for the first time since May 2 when he made St. Louis his 18th victim yesterday, 2-1. Washington's Bob Porterfield opened the door by knocking his ex-New York Yankee mates out of the lead with a 4-1 triumph.

Chisox Lose Ground

Boston was rained out of its game with Philadelphia and Chicago, the other first division club, lost ground in bowing to Detroit, 6-5, in 11 innings. The White Sox now trail Cleveland by seven full games.

Brooklyn opened up an 11½ game lead in the National, high mark for the year, by sweeping a day-night doubleheader from runnerup New York, 7-2 in the afternoon and 7-6 in 10 innings at night. Philadelphia sneaked closer to the Giants by shading Boston, 3-2.

Pittsburgh bombed St. Louis, 10-7 for Murry Dickson's 15th win and Cincinnati took a pair from Chicago, 7-5 and 4-3.

Feller's victory made him top winner in the majors and extended the Indians' streak to seven straight. The Tribe has won 31 of 40 in a drive since June 30. Larry Doby drove home both runs.

32nd For Hodges

Gil Hodges hit his 32nd homer, Duke Snider No. 23 and Carl Furillo No. 12 in the Dodgers' day win over the Giants' Jim Hearn.

Billy Cox singled with the bases full in the 10th for the night verdict over reliefer Dave Koslo. Snider and Furillo also homered in this game and Bobby Thomson hit his 22nd.

Eddie Waitkus tripled off Willard Marshall's glove with two on and two out in the eighth for the Phils margin over Boston. Ken Johnson, lifted for a hitter in the game-winning rally, earned his third victory with the help of Jim Konstanty.

Pittsburgh collected 14 hits including Gus Bell's homer to nail down Murry Dickson's 15th win over St. Louis, 10-7. Stan Musial homered for the Cards.

IDAVILLE BACK IN LOOP LEAD

Idaville moved back into first-place in the Cumberland County league Wednesday by beating Shippensburg VFW 8-2, in an abbreviated game, called at the end of five innings. The previous leader, Mt. Holly Springs, dropped its game to Shippensburg Legion 3-1. In other league action Newville defeated Masland 3-2, to move into fifth place by half a game and Friendship took the measure of Boiling Springs 11-9.

After hurler Staub had allowed the Vets a two-run lead in the top-half of the first inning, Piney Rebert came to the Idaville nine's rescue and blanked the opposition for the balance of the game. Rightfielder M. Griffie led the winners attack with two doubles in three trips to the plate.

Hanover Legion won the championship of the Mason-Dixon junior baseball league Wednesday night by taking a double header from Littlestown Legion in Memorial field at Littlestown.

The Hanover squad eked out a 1 to 0 victory over the home team in the twilight opener of the two contests and then pounded out a 10 to 3 victory under the lights in the second game.

Harrisburg Fires Manager Les Bell

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP)—Les Bell was relieved as manager of the Harrisburg Senators in the Class B Interstate league yesterday and right-fielder Hal Cox was named to succeed him for the rest of the season.

The Senators currently are wallowing in sixth place in the eight-team loop.

A member of the team's board of directors said Bell was fired "because all believe a change was for the best interest of all concerned."

Bell, who has managed the team since its entry into the Interstate league in 1946, was a star player for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1925. He said he has no immediate plans for the future.

HOGAN AND 63 IN TAM O'SHANTER

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—Ben Hogan and 63 other of the world's best pros today charged after golf's biggest purse, $12,500, in an all-business atmosphere that has replaced the usual carnival-like air that once freshened Tam O'Shanter.

Promoter George S. May, who introduced $1 golf to Chicago's populace, has upped his turnstile fee to $2.60 for today and tomorrow and $3.60 for the final two days of the 72-hole meet he calls the "world championship of golf."

Golf-loving addicts probably will ignore the ticket hike, many of them just to get a look at Hogan, three-time National Open winner and will be making his first Chicago appearance since 1947. But the man-in-the-street who used to figure $1 was worth rubbing elbows with the elite to get his first look at the game called golf—these are the fellows who may stay away in droves.

In all, May has put up a total $56,000 for his self-styled "world" affair. The women, featuring such pros as Babe Zaharias, Patty Berg, Louise Suggs and Alice and Marlene Bauer, will be shooting for a $2,100 first award. Ten men amateurs, led by Frank Stranahan, will be playing along with the pros for the "world" crown.

Have you noticed that chickens generally are plumper, meatier than they were a few years ago?
The principal reason for this is the "Chicken-of-Tomorrow" breeding program, sponsored by A&P with the cooperation of the poultry industry.
This six-year program has resulted in chickens that mature when they are younger and more tender, and have more meat in relation to bone.
Why don't you try the superior chickens at your A&P and let us know what you think of them? Please write:

LAST REQUEST

Centralia, Ill. (AP)—A. C. Hood, a Sparta, Ill., fireman, sang at more than 600 funerals in 50 years. But he was buried reecntly without a song. He had requested no singing.

YOUNG IRANIAN GENERAL HOLDS "POWER STICK"

Abaden, Iran (AP) — The husky six-foot Iranian general whose troops reoccupied Azerbaijan from the Russians in 1945 is in command of dangerously explosive Khuzistan in the British-Iranian oil dispute.

He has three British warships at his port, an aroused Iranian populace determined that two thousand British must go — and he says:

"We'll have no trouble here. I have at my disposal more than enough forces to assure complete security."

He's 46-year-old Gen. Azizolla Kamal (accent on the last syllable) military governor of Khuzistan where the British are slowly evacuating one of the richest oil fields under pressure of Iranian oil nationalization

Take him out of his sun-bleached khaki and the square-jawed professional soldier in the army of the shah would look like an American football coach — greying a bit at the temples but in strapping fine physical condition.

He didn't get that way from athletics. "Never had time for sport," he says. "The Army has kept me busy."

He's busy now. His Tenth Iranian Division (Iranian divisions are only a fraction the size of American and European Army divisions) has been ordered from Teheran to make sure there is no trouble here.

For if it started it might lead to World War III, with Britain determined to see that her subjects are safe and with Uncle Ivan watching from the north to see than no western armies land here.

Numbers Secret

General Kamal refuses to say how many men he has for the job, or how they are deployed in this land that comes down from the snow-capped Zagros mountains to the desertland at the head of the Persian gulf.

"If you were playing poker," he says, "you'd hardly let the other players see your cards."

That's where his tanks are in reserve — Shermans and light Stuarts that Iran got from American Army surplus stores. And that's his air force base, too, if he needs to call on Gen. Shah Bakhteri, Iran's "tiger of the south" for air support.

But Kamal doesn't expect to need help. He said Teheran had offered him more troops and he replied "no need for them."

Troops Drafted

His force is composed of Iranian compulsory service troops mostly on the 18th month of their required 24 months service. They come mainly from this wasteland, accustomed to the blasting heat of 180 degrees in the sun and 120 in the shade in country where there is no shade.

Kamal studied military science at the French-run Ecole de la Guerre at Teheran.

He was born at Teheran, Iran's most modern city.

"But that was more or less accidental," he explains.

His family came from the salt desert country of the great plateau near ancient Qum southeast of Teheran. He was born wnen his father and mother were in the capital temporarily on business.

Modern China has never produced enough oil for its own needs.

MYSTERIES ARE CAREER, READS 250 PER YEAR

New York—It is fortunate that Lee Wright likes mystery stories. To earn a pretty penny, Miss Wright must read some 250 of them each year—in manuscript—and just about all the published output, which is considerable.

Lee Wright, who is a brunette, fun and who admires writers, is the editor of Inner Sanctum Mysteries, a branch of a major publishing house.

She is pretty catholic in her tastes, as indeed she would have to be as the person who picks and chooses among the manuscripts which pour onto her desk. The only type of mystery she personally dislikes is the one where the heroine is forever hearing a funny noise in an abandoned house, dark cellar or deserted stables and immediately goes there. Miss Wright refers to these distastefully as "girl-in-the-attic" mysteries, but that doesn't mean she won't put her okay on a good one if it rolls along.

Reading an endless succession of mystery stories can be a grim vocation, but there are some wonderful compensations. There was the day, for instance that a literary agent threw 25,000 words of an unpublished writer on her desk. It was by an unknown named Craig Rice and the finished novel was called "Eight Faces Three."

Then there was the day that two chapters of an unfinished work landed on ther desk. It was the opening of "The G-String Murders," by one Gypsy Rose Lee, hitherto known for an activity somewhat afield from letters.

Miss Wright got into the editing business by a farily direct route. Her father was a New York restaurateur, but her mother thought it would be a good idea to have a book business. They started the Wright Library.

By running a lending library, Miss Wright decided that knowing people was more important than knowing books. She got so good at knowing people that she could almost invariably pick a book for a customer that he would enjoy.

Very few people have ever gotten rich writing mystery stories. Miss Wright figures about 90 per cent of the editions go into rental libraries and only 10 per cent of them bought for private use. The average mystery story runs to about 4,500 copies, but of course if one of the mystery book clubs picks it up, it runs higher.

It is sad but true that most mystery writers make a total of around $1,250 for their book, and do other work, like writing radio scripts or for the pulps magazines, to supplement incomes.

EAST GERMAN LEADERS LIKE RUBBER STAMP

Berlin (AP)—East German Communists have devised a law-making system that looks . . . on paper . . . like democracy. But it's just as absolute as Hitler's one man decrees ever were.

Since October, 1949, the Soviet zone has functioned with a "people's chamber" as a lower house and a "state chamber" as a sort of senate.

The Communist-controlled government submits bills to the legislature and "debate" follows. The result is somewhat different from what happens in the American Congress and the British House of Commons.

The so-called Volkskammer has met 31 times in 20 months and debated budgets, laws, resolutions and policies. None of the debate ever developed opposition to the government's proposals. None of the members ever has voted "no."

Fifty-one "laws" have been passed without a single dissent. Two thirds of them were rushed through on calendar reading without the formality of committees considering them, though the committees exist.

The government has gotten all its actions rubber-stamped by the legislature in a total of 131 hours of sessions.

The delegates or deputies have been paid 500 marks a month. Each has now collected 10,000 marks, an average of 75 marks an hour for listening to the Communist bosses, then dutifully saying "yes". (The East German mark is artificially pegged at 4.2017 to the American dollar.)

They are paid more for one hour of doing nothing than the average German in the east receives for two weeks work.

In addition, the deputies enjoy free transport on the railways and city elevated and subway trains and have other special privileges for concerts and theaters.

Undesriable conduct in the legislature, such as saying "I disagree" would cost the member his favored position in his party as well as in the lawmaking body. Such a stigma extends down into commercial life so he would be automatically chopping off his chances for earning a living. Ergo, none do.

The Communists brag that the legislature's approval of laws and government actions shows the backing of the people. They blandly ignore that the people never had a legislature but were presented a chance to choose the members of the single ballot to say either "yes" or "no" to the whole kit and kaboodle.

On the other hand the Communists seize every chance to find fault with the democratic debate in the west German parliament. Whenever the lawmakers at Bonn exercise their rights to say "no," that east Communists maintain that the west Germans are against the government, against the western Allies, and even against their own freely-chosen political parties.

OIL IS FOUND IN NEVER LAND

Abadan, Iran—Here's your never-never land—Ahwaz, Kohrramshahr and Abadan.

Abadan means "perhaps" in Persian; and "never" in Arabic. And there are about as many Arabs here as Persians.

It's one of the world's greatest oilfields. Until the Iranian government nationalized it the Anglo-Iranment Oil company has been taking out 32,000,000 tons of oil a year and using 200 tankers a month to ship it to 160 ports throughout the world.

It's at the head of the Persian gulf. Here the Tigris and Euphrates, which perhaps hold the Garden of Eden and the cradle of mankind between their ancient valleys, join in the sluggish Shatt-el-Arab. The land is baked to ochre-colored powder. Temperatures rocket up into scorching 160s.

Sandstorms sweep the arid Khuzistan coastal flatlands, blot out the stars and turn the sun to brazen red. But back of the flats the rows of oil well towers line up like Martian giants marching down the barren, brick-red foothills from the snow capped Zagros mountains.

Has Ancient Ruins

Two hundred and fifty miles east across the mountains the sun bleaches the ruins of Persepolis from whose palaces Cyrus ruled from India and Greece six centuries before Christ.

One hundred and fifty miles north along the Iraq border visitors at ancient Shush are shown the supposed site of the tomb of Daniel, who was thrown into the lions' den.

And across the whole wasteland fierce nomadic tribes graze their camels and their sheep along the route where Alexander of Greece marched east to India—and Mongol and Tartar horsemen raided west to Europe.

TRADE SIGHTS NEW "HEROES"

New York (AP) — Young America's next hero may be the military man instead of the hard-riding, straight-shooting cowpoke.

There are straws in the wind. The Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A., a trade organization, reports that, for the first time since 1945, lines of military playsuits—representing all branches of the service, male and female—have appeared on the market. Also appearing are miniatures of military equipment, planes, trucks and tanks. A manufacturer of toiletries for little boys, Arnold Perlman, has abandoned the western theme in packaging his products in favor of cardboard models of ships, jeeps and fighter planes.

The toy people feel that the Western fad is far from dead, pointing to a "rising interest in Indians," and the fact that little girls have taken to life on the plains. They estimate that around 90 per cent of 1952 playsuit sales will be western and Indian costumes (they consider the Indian interest an expansion of the cowboy phenomenon) and about five per cent soldier, sailor, air force and marine get-ups. There's also some interest in space ships and adventures on the moon.

Perlman, however, is convinced the Western thing is dead. His own three boys have grown bored with being cowboys seven days a week and have taken up war games.

HOW SHIPS ARE PUT IN BOTTLES

Lowell, Vt., (AP) — People who know the old trick of sliding a little ship with masts folded down into the mouth of a bottle—and then pulling the masts erect with a string—are appalled when they see Bob Preston's bottled ships.

"What did you do," demanded a navy veteran, "Split the bottle?"

For the hulls of young Bob Preston's ships are far bigger in diameter than the bottle necks. Inside one five-gallon carboy with narrow mouth sits, incredibly, a very chubby tugboat model.

Bob's answer to the navy man's bottle-splitting question was, "No. I split the ship." That's his method and it's self-taught.

Preston, a recent graduate of the engineering course at the University of Vermont, first builds his ship complete to lines and rigging. Then he takes it apart, slicing it in sections as needed.

After that, he re-assembles the sections inside, glueing them with the aid of an assortment of long, slender tools averaging two feet in length.

He had quite a time finding a jug large enough for his latest—a model of Sir Francis Drake's ship, "The Golden Hind." It kept him busy through many spare hours because it was "messy."

When the glue on a bottled ship model has dried, Preston corks the bottle. And there you have the practical side of ship-bottling, says he. For that's one ship-model that never will need dusting.

BLIND WOMAN MINES COAL, TENDS STOCK

By JOHN R. MORRIS

Mullens, W. Va., (AP) — At the age 67 she's completely blind. But she mines coal, tends livestock and lives all by herself on a lonesome mountain.

To see her, you walk down some railroad tracks, teeter across a narrow footbridge and pant up a mountain path. As you go remember that Blind Mattie — as she's called — shuffles up and down the mile-long trail four or five times a week, sometimes with 50 pounds of livestock feed in her large arms.

Her real name is Marthie Jane Wills. The house is a one-room log hut with quarter-inch cracks in the floor. If she isn't in the hut, she's tending her calf, caring for a litter of pigs, building a fence, or working in her coal mine. Her mine, where she digs only enough coal for her own use, goes 150 feet into the mountain.

If she's not anywhere around then white-haired, clear-talking and fast-thinking Mattie probably has walked to Rhodell, near Mullens, to go "to church for religion" or to the store for provisions.

Lord Is Her Cane

How can she do all this, blind and old as she is? A smile takes the wrinkles from her weather-worn face: "I use the Lord for a cane, son. Have ever since I had my last good eye gouged out." A tree branch jabbed into her eye when she was hunting her cows late one night in 1930.

"The eyeball's still there and gets infected, but I don't go to doctors. Ain't been but twice since May 13, 1926, when I was operated on and it cost me $350 cash. I just quit going."

Disease (Trachoma) got her other eye when she was young.

She leases her 100-acre tract from two land companies for 50 cents a month. "Been here by myself 14 years come next Thanksgiving.

"I used to live up yonder on the knob. But bootleggers burned the house down seven years ago (November 17, 1943) when I kept telling the law on them."

Home Cost $150

"The church people have been after me to move off my mountain to town. But I tell 'em, shucks no. Why son, in town you're out one door and in another. I got two children. My boy was hurt in the war. Lord, I don't know where he is. Haven't seen him in 10 years.

"My daughter's got 12 younguns of her own and that don't give her time to come a-visiting. Dabney, he's my husband, Dabney Wills died Sept. 19, 1932, but 'Sylvia' keeps me and my dogs company."

Sylvia is a massive, nine-year-old sow "who I'd get lonesome without. The state gives me $27 a month. That and my pig-money buys my food and pays my rent.

"I go to all the meetings at the Free Will Baptist church down there (Rhodell). Used to go where they handled snakes, but the town won't let them have a meeting place anymore so I quit. But I never handled any snakes. The Lord takes care of me and He takes cares of the snakes, and I don't want to change things, son."

COURTESY HELPS

Winnipeg (AP)—Increased accidents resulting from improper passing have led the Manitoba Automotive Transport association to join a campaign against this offense. Mayor Garnet Coulter pasted the first "I'll Help You Pass" sign on the back of a truck.

Fushun, Manchuria, has two Japanese-built shale oil extraction plants.

GOOD OLD DAYS

Montreal (AP) — An expense sheet for one James O'Brien, who worked on the Lachine Canal in 1822, was an eye-opener at the McGill summer historical exhibition. He received $1 a day but he paid only 15 cents for a pound of butter, and 10 cents for an ounce of tea and loaf of bread.

OUTDOOR DRAMA OF CHEROKEES PLEASES MANY

Cherokee, N. C. (AP) — An almost forgotten page of American history is being dramatized in the Great Smoky mountains. It is the story of the Cherokee Indians told through the medium of Kermit Hunter's folk drama, "Unto These Hills."

"Unto These Hills" plays six nights weekly, Tuesday through Sunday. The summer season ends September 4. It is presented in Mountainside theater in this Indian village.

More than 107,000 persons saw the production in its first season last year. The premier season broke all attendance records for outdoor dramas. This year it seems to be on the way to a new record.

Non-Profit Group

The Cherokee story has found its way into few school books, yet it is a story that has moved continuously across the American scene since De Soto's gold-ravenous party pushed into these valleys 400 years ago.

The re-creation has been made possible by the Cherokee Historical association, a non-profit organization whose aim is to perpetuate the history and customs of the Cherokees.

"Unto These Hills" is an ugly story. It began with the coming of De Soto in 1540 — supposedly the first visit of a white man to the Cherokees. In the years that followed, hordes of white men surged into the mountains seeking land and its treasures.

Indian Gives Life

It had its climax in the removal of all but a remnant of the Cherokees to strange lands in the west in 1839 and in the death of Tsali, a simple nobody who gave his life so that a handful of his people might forever live in the land of their birth.

The story of the Cherokee is the story of Tsali. It is the story of Sequoyah, the illiterate Cherokee who gave his people an Indian alphabet and who became so great that the greatest trees on earth were named for him. It is the story of Junaluska, the chief from the Smoky mountains who saved Andrew Jackson's life at the battle of Horseshoe Bend. It is the story of Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, Edward Everett and David Crockett, men who raised their voices in the white man's capitol in behalf of the Cherokee.

New Out-Door Drama

Kermit Hunter, the author, dug into neglected archives to capture the spirit of the story. He is a native of Welch, W. Va., and an instructor in English at the University of North Carolina. His newest outdoor drama is "Forever This Land," a drama of Lincoln's times, and is being produced this summer at New Salem, Ill.

The tragic, gay and moving story of the Cherokee is played out in two acts and fourteen scenes. It has a cast of 120, headed by actresses and actors of the Carolina Playmakers of the University of North Carolina. Of these, 53 are Cherokee Indians whose ancestors lived the story that is being re-created.

Music for the play was composed by Jack Frederick Kilpatrick, a young Cherokee Indian from Stillwell, Okla. He is a member of the music faculty of Southern Methodist university at Dallas, Tex.

PASTOR MOVES "OUT FRONT"

Centralia, Ill. (AP) — The Rev. Samuel Simonds has been listening to his own sermons at his Percy, Ill., First Baptist church. The minister forsook the pupit for a pew after a heart attack. While unable to preach, he listened with his congregation to his sermons recorded just as he had delivered them many Sundays before.

Rainfall records were not kept in Europe until the middle 1600s.

Will Return To Children's Bureau

Dr. Martha M. Eliot has been named as the new head of the U. S. Children's Bureau. She is coming back to an agency she served for 25 years. She started as a staff member in 1924 and rose to be associate chief of the bureau. For the past two years she has served the World Health organization in Geneva, Switzerland.

She graduated from Radcliffe in 1913 and got her M.D. from the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine in 1918. She did hospital work until she joined the bureau.

Her bureau research included a study on prevention and control of rickets. She also did one of the early revisions of the bureau's "Infant Care." This is the government's guide on how to raise babies and has been a best seller since it was first issued in 1914.

She became assistant chief in 1934 and associate in 1941. In these jobs she headed the bureau medical services. These include child health and crippled children's programs under the Social Security act. She also supervised maternity and child care for service men's families in World War II.

In her two years with the World Health organization she has helped organize health services in countries asking such aid from WHO.

ITALIAN PAPER NEW CHAMPION OF DEMOCRACY

By ANDREA NUVOLARI

Milan (AP) — "Il Corriere della Sera" boasts the double distinction of having the largest circulation among Italian newspapers and the longest tradition as a champion of liberal democracy in the peninsula.

Now a morning newspaper, it was founded 75 years ago as an afternoon publication. Hence its name which freely translated means "Evening messenger."

The devotion of "Corriere," as the newspaper is known to Italians, to its founding principles has made it one of the Italian newspapers best known abroad. Recently in commenting on the closing of La Prensa of Buenos Aires, an American magazine said that famous South American paper would outlast the Peron government just as "Corriere della Sera" outlived Fascism.

Fought Fascism

"Corriere" fought Italian Fascism until Benito Mussolini stilled its voice by killing freedom of the press in Italy. While the newspaper never stopped publication, Fascist editors were imposed on it by the regime.

Today "Corriere" is an unrelenting foe of Communism. The newspaper is the number one foe of the local Communists who daily seek to discredit it through their own organ "L'Unita."

A list of its editors, writers and collaborators past and present includes the names of many leading Italians.

President Einaudi of Italy for many years was its principal collaborator on economic subjects. Alberto Tarchiani, Italy's ambassador to Washington, was an editor-in-chief before Fascism. Today he is a collaborator.

Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, is a steady contributor to the columns of "Corriere." He writes on foreign affairs under the pen name of Aeropeus. Benedetto Croce, considered the leading European philosopher today, is another collaborator. Famous names in modern Italian literature such as Signora Grazia Deledda and Luigi Pirandello, 1926 and 1934 Nobel Prize winners, and the famed poet-soldier Gabriele D'Annunzio have signed "Corriere" articles.

Today "Corriere" is a staunch advocate of the Atlantic Pact, a fervent partisan of European unity and a supporter of Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government.

Vancouver (AP) — Because she walked in uninvited, a woman lost a claim for damages against a Vancouver garage for injuries suffered when she slipped and fell into a grease pit.

NEW RICKSHAWS IN SAIGON ARE RUN BY MOTORS

Saigon (AP) — A new menace looms in the Far East—the motor rickshaw. Some time ago the ancient type of rickshaw, pulled by a runner, gave way to three-wheel, medium-speed vehicles pedaled like bicycles and usually called pedicabs or trishaws.

Now, pedicabs and pedestrians in Saigon are scurrying off the streets, shoved aside by three-wheel motorcycles which have been converted into taxis. A passenger perches on a seat slung over the front wheels. Whipping along at 40 miles per hour or flinging around a sharp corner, it is thrilling—and dangerous. That is why motor "cyclos," as the French call them, have been nicknamed "suicide cars."

Traffic Hazard

For anyone trying to cross a street, they present a unique kind of hazard. From head-on, one appears to be an ordinary pedicab creeping toward you. You try to cross in front. The motor cyclo bears down on you at a fantastic clip.

A survey shows:

They are still looked upon with disfavor in Hongkong where, in the city's narrow, crowded lanes, they could be a hazard. In tradition-loving Bangkok, they are being resisted, too, and the tendency there is rather toward more elaborate and streamlined versions of the bicycle-type pedicab.

The question of licensing powered rickshaws in Singapore has caused a municipal dispute. Oddly enough, the coolies who have the weary job of pumping bicycle-type pedicabs have lobbied loudly against installing motors. It is all an imperialist plot to put small operators out of business, it is argued, for only big syndicates can afford such high mechanization.

Jeeps Jam Streets

In Manila, serious competition for motor rickshaws is seen in the great fleets of American automobiles and old "surplus" jeeps that jam the streets.

Jakarta, Indonesia, is somewhat backward in modernizing its transportation. There motor rickshaws still are a curiosity. Probably there are less than a dozen in the city, and they are privately owned and used in the same way as the "family car."

It is not surprising that Saigon should take a roaring lead in the move toward high speed transportation. Everything about the glittering "Paris of the Orient" is extreme and excessive, swirled along by an undercurrent of desperation. Nowhere else in the East is the glare of neon so bright or the facade so gaudy. A gay, cosmopolitan, well ordered city—and at almost anytime you may hear an exploding grenade on a main street.

MOOSE IN THE TRAFFIC

New Liskeard, Ont. (AP) — Two huge moose stood patiently in a field by the highway here for hours. Occupants of a nearby farm said the male and female animals evidently were waiting for a break in the traffic. Finally they got across.

REDS DROP GUARD—PAY

Rangoon (AP)—A group of Communists operating in Central Burma were caught napping literally. A government patrol in the jungles south of the rail town of Pyinmana found the group soundly asleep in their encampment. Five were killed in a futile escape bid.

Jap Treaty Disturbs Singapore Chinese

Singapore (AP) — A large section of the Chinese community in Singapore feels frustrated by terms of the draft Japanese peace treaty—they see no hope in these terms of recovering funds taken from them by the Japanese as donations during the occupation.

Tay Koh Yat, president of the Chinese War Damage Claim committee, said "it is unfortunate that not a word is mentioned in the draft concerning the payment of the money." He remarked that the Singapore government had promised many years ago to forward this claim to authorities concerned.

WOMAN OF 70 REMAINS YOUNG THROUGH SPORTS

Salt Lake City (AP) — Mrs. Jean Leonard, slim and trim in a black suit, swings her legs gracefully to the tune of "Peggy O'Neill" at the Deseret gymnasium.

She plays a neat game of catch ball and swims like an expert.

Which isn't unusual, except that Mrs. Leonard is a young 70, the mother of three and grandmother of seven. She says:

"Most women my age just sit, but I find the activity gives me a new lease on life."

Mrs. Leonard is one of a number of grandmothers in their seventies who are regular patrons at the gymnasium. She participates in a program of sports and exercises for a class of matrons.

Develop Minds Too

The queen of Deseret gym, a Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) church operated institution, is Mrs. Elizabeth Liddle, a conscientious member since 1919 except for six months in 1947 when she filled a church mission. She plays catch ball, swims and dives.

At 71, she still weighs 145—a limit set when she was told in her heavier days that she was a poor insurance risk. Mrs. Liddle has six children, 14 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

The classes are a mental as well as physical stimulant, says gym instructor Miranda Matson, explaining:

"You've got a healthy mind if you like to exercise."

The older women have been bending and stretching for years, and sweating out their troubles and excess weight in the steam room.

Have Young Matrons

Grace McEwan, a frisky 58-year-old grandmother, is an 18-year veteran at the gym. She weighs 118 pounds and attributes her health to wholesome activities and diet.

Mrs. Joe Christensen, wife of a city commissioner, has been a gym patron for 23 years "between babies." The mother of four, Mrs. Christensen says the bi-weekly classes "relax one no end."

Young matrons also flock to the well equipped gymnasium. Janet Taylor, 22, a shapely mother of two children, has been a "regular" for two years because "I want to stay young."

Besides swimming, catch ball and workouts on the stall bars, the women vigorously perform stretching exercises and posture exercises, to establish poise and control.

About 285 business girls and married women and 140 younger girls (from nine to 16 years) attend regular classes. Nearly 100 more each week drop in for informal workouts.

UNMARKED CARS PROPOSED FOR POLICE PATROL

Evanston, Ill. (AP) — The unmarked police car may catch you if you don't watch your driving.

James S. Baker, director of research at the Traffic Institute, Northwestern university, says the taxpayer would profit by the practice. Highway police in Indiana are testing the idea.

"If you send a cat out with a bell on its neck it won't catch many mice," Baker said.

There were 35,000 persons killed in auto accidents in the U. S. last year. There are 50 million automobiles on U. S. highways today.

Congestion Worsens

With congestion getting worse instead of better, Baker said, the Institute is seeking ways to save lives at minimum cost. It is doing this by teaching traffic police to patrol with more work done for the taxpayer's dollar.

With three out of four fatal accidents due to driver failure, better driver licensing methods are under study. A course in examining drivers was recently conducted for examiners from 25 states. The tuition was sponsored by the Farmers Insurance Group Safety Foundation, Los Angeles, Calif.

Baker told the examiners that the patrolman isn't earning his keep unless he turns in at least 30 traffic violations a month. Physical ability, driver skill, knowledge and attitude play an important part in how a driver behaves behind the wheel.

Baker Remedy

"Therefore, the best buy in traffic law enforcement to reduce highway deaths 10 to 20 per cent is in the field of proper driver licensing," Baker said.

Here's how Baker would handle the problem:

1. More detailed examinations of first applicants for driver licenses.
2. Examine the older driver every three years.
3. Follow up on the repeaters of accidents and violations; either improve them or get them off the roads.

ROAD GUARD IS BEING TESTED

New York (AP) — The Danish auto fence, a new type of highway guard rail, now is in use in a dozen places in the United States.

The rail is concrete, shaped like the sloping back of a couch. It rests on massive concrete legs, which keep it from tipping backward.

The bottom of this couch-back is about seven inches above the ground. The top is just a little below the average passenger car tire top. When a car hits this rail, the wheel is turned in toward the highway. The couch form leans back far enough so that the car body is not likely even to touch the rail.

Reduce Fatalities

Seaboard Associates Inc., Greenwich, Conn., who are the New England agents, report that on the Wilbur Cross highway, near Willington, Conn., a car was driven into this rail at 45 miles per hour and at an angle of 30 degrees. The car turned back into the highway, without dents or scratches.

It is claimed that this rail will materially reduce fatal highway accidents.

The rail was invented in Denmark by S. A. Rasmussen. U.S. rights were acquired by Kennard Mogensen, an American citizen of Danish birth.

They have been installed for test on Highway 64 in Iowa, in Kansas City, in Wisconsin, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Connecticut. They are planned for the Interborough Parkway, Queens county, New York. Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Norway and Switzerland are using them.

Rangoon (AP) — Six American technicians will be advisers to a film board appointed by the Burmese government to make documentaries in Burma, it was officially announced here. The documentaries will show the people of Burma what is being done in a nation-building program. ECA aid will help the board obtain equipment and other requirements. It will also contribute towards building a central film laboratory to serve the entire Burmese film industry.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Miss Margaret Ann Moul has returned from a short visit to her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Merl R. Shetter, at their Pittsburgh home where she accompanied Mrs. Shetter on her return from a visit to her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter. Fred Shetter was also a recent guest at the home of his brother, Merl.

Mrs. Laura S. Bosserman was hostess last week to a group of friends from Hagerstown, Md.

The Jefferson band has been engaged to play on Saturday at the annual home-coming and public picnic of the Red Run church in Hofman's grove nearby. A specialty will be chicken corn soup made after an old Pennsylvania Dutch recipe and served each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Lerew, Sr., and granddaughter, Jacqueline Lerew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Calvin Lerew, have returned from a trip to Poquonock Bridge, Conn., to visit the Lerews' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Bloodworth.

Visit Florida

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter are at home again after their recent motor trip to Key West, Fla., where they were accompanied by a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Merl R. Shetter, Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Myers, R. 2, are spending a month in California at the Paramount home of their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. William T. O'Brien, and infant son. Mrs. O'Brien was formerly Miss Dorothy M. Myers, R.N.

Mrs. J. Monroe Danner is again able to use her right arm which was disabled for several weeks when she dislocated her elbow in a fall at her home.

Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney received word during the past week of the death on July 28 of her sister-in-law, Miss Kathryn M. Tierney, Brooklyn, N. Y.

U.S. PERIODICALS BURNED

Penang, Malaya, (AP) — Fire in a Chinese school burned three cases of American magazines and other literature from the United States Information Service. It was believed oil had been poured on the cases and then ignited.

Preston, Ont. (AP) — Answering a fire alarm, fireman Howard Ruppel found it was his own home that was ablaze. His four-year-old daughter was rescued by his wife and a neighbor and damage was confined to two rooms.

Mystery Bullet Is Found In Face

There were no scars on her face, but she had lost her right eye in an operation following an injury she said was caused by a fall in her home.

The fall occurred recently, but the bullet apparently had been under her cheekbone for several months. If the bullet did not enter under the eye, the doctors do not know how it got there.

Bridgetown, N. S. (AP)—Appointing a regular pound-keeper, council here set a rate of $2 for each unlicensed dog picked up, plus 25 cents a day board for each animal and 50 cents for each dog destroyed on an order from the police chief.

WEATHERMAN'S WEATHER

Centralia, Ill. (AP) — All kinds of weather befouled the summer vacation of Clyde Pittman—and he's the weatherman at Harrisburg, Ill. The Pittsmans ran into flood at Lawrenceville, Kans.; hail at Emporia, Kans.; dust storms in Colorado; snow and 23 degrees in Montana; ruins left by a tornado in Wisconsin. Returning through Illinois, they encountered another flood.

Winnipeg (AP) — The congregation of the Russian Orthodox Holy Trinity church here held a special service of veneration for one of the oldest icons in the world, a painting of the Virgin Mary which is believed to have been done by the Apostle St. Luke.

Claims Reds Burned Their Victims Alive

Singapore (AP)—Communist terrorists burned alive an Asian chief clerk of a Malayan rubber estate recently, a letter by a "North Johore Planter" to the "Straits Times" (English-language paper) revealed.

The "Planter" wrote that "armed bandits entered the house of the chief clerk of Tangkak Rubber Estate, North Johore, trussed him up, piled furniture on top of him and set fire to the house." He was burned to death.

The "Planter," complaining that this incident was never announced on the government-controlled radio or published in the local daily papers, remarked: "Maybe this is considered to be a minor incident?"

Dangerous Snake Hides Under Throne

Rangoon (AP) — A "squatter" at the home of Burmese President Sao Shwe Thaike recently was ejected by strategy and at no small risk to the evicters.

"He" was a deadly krait whose bit is known to kill within a few minutes. The snake established claims to territory beneath the golden throne of Thibaw, last of the Burmese kings, now set up in the main hall of the president's house.

A local newspaper reporting the incident said the snake was "well behaved except that it used to scare away with a loud and menacing hiss" anyone approaching the throne.

VETS TALK WITH SPEECH MACHINE

Lyons, N. J.—Frank Bamford, paralyzed war veteran who has lost the use of his voice, now can "talk" with the help of a special foot-telegraph machine.

The 28-year-old victim of the disease which crippled baseball player Lou Gehrig got the Western Union Telegraph company to devise the foot-operated machine which projects letters of the alphabet on a small screen.

Bamford, a patient at the Veterans Administration hospital here, previously had a difficult time communicating with others. Unable to speak or even to wink his eye, he would have others point successively to alphabet letters on a card. When they hit the right letter, he would indicate it was right by wrinkling his nose. It took 15 minutes to work out the simplest sentence.

Use Ticker Parts

He was an electrical repairman in East Orange, N. J., before joining the army, and dreamed up an idea for a telegraph that would print letters on a paper tape by remote control. It took five hours of exhausting effort for him to communicate the briefest description of his idea.

Bamford's sister appealed to Western Union. Its engineers salvaged some parts from an old stock quotation ticker and A. E. Frost and Robert Steeneck built the special machine, attaching the switch to his wheelchair.

His eyes lighted, and, by pressing lightly on the switch, he slowly spelled out on the screen: "Thanks. Now watch my smoke!" Then he wrinkled his nose.

Grave Overlooks Favorite Scene

Papeete, Tahiti, (AP) —Fittingly, the last resting place of author James Norman Hall, who died here recently, overlooks the bay where the ship "Bounty" anchored more than a century and a half ago.

Hall and Charles Bernard Nordhoff wrote a trilogy of South Sea stories about the Bounty—"Mutiny on the Bounty," "Men Against the Sea" and "Pitcairn's Island."

Fulfilling his long expressed wish, Hall's body was carried on the shoulders of six strong Tahitian men to the grave atop a hill near Arue.

The grave site overlooks Mahina point, forming the northern barrier of Matavai bay, where the "Bounty" anchored.

TREASURER'S REWARD

Gilbert Plains, Manitoba (AP) — Treasurer Lloyd Macklin of St. Paul's United church has long watched the church accounts. On leaving to make his home in Winnipeg, he was given a purse by the congregation.

Cow Hand Is 71, Still Rides Herd

Milan, Tenn. (AP) — How old must a cowboy be before he is too old to ride and rope?

It must be more than 71, because John K. Skinner is still riding "the range" out here in west Tennessee. Skinner's a real cow-puncher, mind you, with bowed legs and boots and spurs. And he says he keeps all six of his horses "rode down" and could use six more.

The old cowhand punches cattle on land leased by the Dogie Cattle company, of Dexter, N. M., from the Milan Arsenal reservation near here. He has 1,050 head of cattle and 650 calves to look after.

Old John says he's been a cowboy since he ran away from school back in Oklahoma when he was 14. That's 57 years of riding horses and chasing dogies, and he still likes it.

Woman Turns On Non-Paying Bookie

New York (AP) — A Bronx housewife gave the police an assist in their drive against gamblers by having an alleged bookmaker arrested. Her compaint was that he failed to pay off after she had parlayed $100 into $1,885 betting on horse races.

The woman, a mother of two children, told the court she bet an average of $40 a day on the races without drawing on her bank account or her husband's $85 weekly pay.

Orphans In India Have 300 "Mothers"

Levitttown, N. Y. (AP)—The 120 boys of far-away St. Anthony's Orphanage in famine ridden India aren't orphans any more—they now have 300 friendly foster-mothers.

Three hundred housewives, members of the Rotary Confraternity in St. Bernard's Roman Catholic church in this postwar suburban community, "adopted" the youngsters in response to an appeal for aid from the director of the orphanage in Alleppey, India. Each housewife will buy an extra package of food on her weekly shopping tour. The food will be collected and shipped to the orphanage once a month.

Make Time Tests Of Burning Mattress

Huntington, W. Va. (AP) — How long does it take a cigarette to burn up a mattresss?

The Huntington Fire Department, making a series of tests, found that a standard spring mattress will be be destroyed in two and one-half hours. It plans to find out about other types of mattresses, too.

The test was made in a frame house erected for the eperiment in the department's drill area. A cigarette left on the mattress set a smouldering fire which burned a hole all the way through in one hour and 11 minutes. It took one hour and 45 minutes for the mattress to break into flame. Forty-five minutes later, there was nothing left but ashes.

Michael Faraday is cerdited with discovering alternating current electricity in England in 1831 when he announced the principal of electromagnetic induction.

NEW RED BUREAU

Hong Kong (AP) — The Chinese Communists have added a bureau of aeronautics to their Ministry of Heavy Industry. A recent Peiping announcement disclosed the new bureau in stating that a director had been appointed. Observers in Hong Kong do not recall seeing such a bureau listed before in official Chinese Red organizational charts.

The first known mention of coffee was in a Arabian medical encyclopedia about 850 A.D.

New Clock To Stop Stampede Arguments

Calgary (AP)—Calgary stampede officials have ordered a special four-foot stop clock to save arguments at future stampedes. They say the clock, visible to rodeo contestants and audience alike, will save a lot of disputes about timing of stampede events.

It is not unusual to have as many as a dozen stop watches operating at once during rodeo events and often none of the times agree with the official timekeeper.

The specially-ordered electric clock is controlled by a button operated by the timekeeper. It will be wired to sound the 10-second horn.

Gods Disturbed By Thieves "Appeased"

Singapore (AP)—Three Hindu gods were appeased by a sacred bath in milk and coconut water at dawn in the Sivan temple here.

"Siva" and "Ganesa" and "Subramanya" were disturbed by thieves who looted the temple during the Japanese occupation. The Kumbabhishekam (purification) ceremony lasted four days and included non-stop chanting. Old men and women filled brass pots with the holy water which flowed over the dieties.

Religious Riot Narrowly Averted

Rangoon (AP)—A Buddhist monk near here called the Moslem god Allah a butcher and nearly started a religious riot at Thazi, Central Burma.

While the riot squad was alerted, Buddhists smoothed Moslem indignation by explaining Lawkanatha was preaching on the benefits of vegetarianism. Buddhists here are flesh eaters though the Buddhist law forbids the taking of life.

Thazi's large Moslem population was forwarded a complaint to the Ministry of Religious Affairs here charging the monk with blasphemy.

Head Colds Not Allowed On Trains

Omaha (AP) — Railroad travelers with head colds would have to give Omaha a wide berth if authorities should decide to dust off one musty ordinance on the city's books.

It requires railroad conductors to wire ahead if any passengers show signs of the sniffles or other symptoms of contagious disease.

Another zany law cited by Dr. Edwin D. Lyman, acting city-county health director, permits arrest of a householder who is unfortunate enough to have a damp basement.

Dr. Lyman says he's not prepared to try to enforce these outdated ordinances.

Medical Corps Is Given High Praise

New York (AP) — "The boys in Korea have been getting wonderful medical care," says Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, New York state's health commissioner.

Dr. Hilleboe spent two weeks in Korea and Japan with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

"Two wonderful things I saw," he said, "were the speed with which the seriously wounded were moved back in helicopters and the rapidity with which they were treated in a mobile, surgical hospital set up in 20 tents."

ROASTIN' EARS BY THE TON

Mendota, Ill., Aug. 8 (AP) — Eight tons of buttered sweet corn will be served free to thousands of visitors tomorrow. The event is the fourth annual Sweet Corn Festival sponsored by the chamber of commerce and other civic groups. Mendota, a town of 4,200 in north central Illinois, is one of the state's sweet corn growing centers. The corn will be cooked in a huge steam boiler. A Mendota creamery will furnish the butter.

NEW NPA ORDER CUTS BUILDING

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—It is now virtually impossible to start the construction of any house except the smallest bungalow. This is apparent in an analysis of the new restrictions on the use of steel, copper and aluminum. Even a four or five-room minimum cottage does not fit into the allowances of essential metals now available.

The restricting order, entitled M-4A, issued by the National Production Authority (NPA), has created widespread consternation in building circles. When it was announced on August 3, its full significance was not immediately realized by builders.

The order temporarily froze the start of new industrial and commercial buildings, apartment houses and hospitals, as well as all structures requiring more than minor quantities of the the three critical metals.

The action was taken with the avowed purpose of conserving these metals for the national defense emergency.

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The air force, finding itself top heavy with officers, is temporarily halting call-ups of officers from most of its volunteer reserves. An air force statement said last night procurement of officers in recent months outpaced enlistments. Officers could not say how long the suspension will last.

TELECASTERS ARE BOOSTING U. S. TV ABROAD

New York (AP) — TV cameras are proving one of the best U. S. boosters abroad since nickel candy bars were first exported.

Richard C. Hooper, manager of RCA Victor's shows and exhibits department is largely responsible. He has led highly-skilled video technicians all over the world televising everything from surgical operations to grand opera.

"People are plenty keyed up about American television everywhere we go," says Hooper. "They are anxious to see how it works because they want TV in their own countries."

The purpose of the tours is to sell foreign communications officials on U. S. video techniques, "looking forward to the day when round-the-world, standardized television transmission will be as common as short wave radio is today," Hooper explains.

The traveling telecasters have turned their cameras on countless special events, like conventions and fairs, in this country in addition to their foreign assignments. Their first job came 12 years ago when television cameras were set up at a Pittsburgh fair to show people that the new-fangled contraption really worked.

Closed Circuit Televising

The size of the crews has steadily grown since the Pittsburgh experiment. Today, split into groups of from two to 10 men, they carry field cameras, life-size projectors and large screen receivers with them on their junkets.

"We usually televise over closed circuits, transmitting by cable to receivers in theaters, lobbies and auditoriums where interested groups gather," Hooper states.

On foreign trips, the teams have televised bullfights in Mexico and Brazil, rare surgery in South America and France, and Moorish guards in Spain, to mention only a few.

For the medical "shows" (televised exclusively for medical congresses), the teams have mapped out a flawless routine. A pre-focused camera is suspended over the operating table and run by remote control. No special lighting is needed. The only worry, in fact, is explosive anesthetic. Hooper refuses to televise an operation in which explosive gas is used. Extra-heavy wire insulation is used on the cameras at all operations no matter what type of anesthetic is used.

Results Are Evident

One crew got set for a crack at colorful Moorish guards near Madrid on a Spanish tour. They discovered they were on the tail end of the power line that ran from generators inside the city.

"Since television requires stable current, that meant no pictures and a long ride for nothing," Hooper recalls. "We told the minister of communications, who had requested the pictures, that we'd have to let him down. He was set on seeing the Moorish detachment on TV, so he ordered power to some 16 surrounding villages cut in order that we'd have the necessary power. He got his pictures."

On a recent trip to Italy, RCA-TV teams televised performances in the La Scala Opera House for the Milan International Exposition, a Vatican choir for Pope Pius XII and a special show for Premier Alcide de Gasperi.

"We've had a good reception abroad," Hooper asserts. "We like to feel that we're emissaries doing a valuable service for the television industry."

Results of the tours already are evident in South America, Cuba and Mexico, where a total of nine television stations have been established within one year after a visit by the traveling teams.

The future looks busy for these TV ambassadors. They're about to take off on a trip to an undisclosed destination that "will keep us out of the country about a year," says Hooper.

Vocational Training On Wheels

Caledonia, N. S., (AP) — A "shop-mobile" travels through rural areas of Queen's county providing instruction in such occupations as woodworking, metal work and machinery repair for boys unable to go to colleges or vocational schools.

Open Century-Old Church Cornerstone

Charlestown, W. Va., (AP) — Two three-cent coins were among the articles found in the Charlestown Presbyterian church cornerstone, opened recently as part of a centennial observance.

Also sealed in the stone were copies of publications, an elaborate testament, and a program for the cornerstone-laying ceremony 100 years ago.

The original contents were resealed in the stone along with contributions from contemporary life.

PAUL CHALFANT HAS DUAL ROLE

Waynesboro, Pa.—A symphony orchestra violinist in winter, newspaperman in summer, Paul F. Chalfant, of Waynesboro, Pa., this fall will occupy a first violin chair with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. He now is a staff newsman for the Waynesboro Record Herald, and in addition is a director and vice president of the publishing company.

He was a violinist with the Baltimore Symphony orchestra last season. When an offer was made to him at the close of the season by Antal Dorati, conductor, to join the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, he accepted promptly.

Chalfant, now 24, served in the Navy in World War II, then returned to Oberlin Conservatory of Music at Oberlin, Ohio, from which he was graduated in 1949. He became an assistant in the music department of the University of Tulsa, where he received his master's degree. He was a member of the Tulsa Philharmonic orchestra before signing with Baltimore Symphony for the fall and winter of 1950-51.

American Guides Burma Airdrome Job

Rangoon (AP) — A 64-year-old American civil engineer is helping build Rangoon's new luxury airdrome to cost approximately $10,000,000. It is the 35th Theodore Human, of Boston and Florida, has supervised in between spells of highway construction since 1939.

When this project is completed by the end of 1952 it will be about the sixth largest airdrome in the world with a concrete runway 8100 feet long and 200 feet wide to accommodate 150-ton jets. It will also have an air-conditioned terminal building worth approximately $5,000,000.

Human was principal highways engineer with the Pacific Island Engineers at Guam—a navy job—whe someone recommended him to the Burmese government, then planning to expand the runway on its present airport.

He expected to remain in Rangoon just six months. Instead he walked into a man-size job that will tie him down to this part of the world for two years.

FAMILY STABBING

Rangoon (AP) — A father plucked a knife plunged into his chest by his daughter and stabbed the girl with it. This, police said, happened after the girl tried to stop her father from beating her mother.

A female sturgeon may lay millions of eggs in a year.

Going To Russia For "Security"

Singapore (AP) — About 400 Hainanese, most of them more than 30 years of age, are sailing for Communist-held Hainan without any intention of returning to Singapore. They did not apply for re-entry visas.

One of the Hainanese said: "There is no security whatsoever for me in this country when I grow old and unable to work."

Almost all bought new umbrellas, saying it rained heavily in the winter in Hainan and anyway the umbrellas were cheaper here.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg — Miss Ann Eckenrode, Baltimore, visited over the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Eckenrode, near St. Anthony's, and with her father, Prof. B. J. Eckenrode, and Mrs. Eckenrode.

Approximately $1,500 was realized at the recent church picnic of St. Joseph's Catholic church. The pastor, Rev. Francis Stauble, at all the masses on Sunday expressed appreciation to all those who helped to make the affair a success.

St. Anthony's Shrine Catholic church will hold its annual picnic and supper on Saturday in the grove adjoining the church.

Miss Marianne Sanders, Washington, D. C., spent the week-end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers Topper were visitors Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Topper and Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers.

Friends and relatives visited Sunday with Sister Mary Topper at St. Joseph's college. Sister Mary is the former Lillian Topper and is stationed at St. Vincent's hospital, Bridgeport, Conn. She is spending a short time at the college.

Michael Kelly, Newry, Pa., spent the week-end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly.

Mrs. William Topper spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Upton Austin, Taneytown.

Miss Pauline Rosensteel, daughter of Mrs. Allen Rosensteel, left Saturday for Baltimore where she has accepted a position with the Bell Telephone company as a secretary.

Bonn (AP) — The birth of the West German Republic will be a national holiday in the future. The West German government decided to declare September 12, the day the first federal president was elected in 1949, as a holiday. Under the Nazis the Germans had to observe January 30 as a national holiday to commemorate Hitler's assumption of power in 1933.

FARM CALENDAR

Inventory of Flowers—One way to increase interest in raising flowers for improving the home grounds, according to A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturalist of the Pennsylvania State college, is to take part in community floral shows. Meanwhile, he suggests taking an inventory of flowering annuals and perennials which are suitable for exhibition to have all information ready at show time.

Hay for Poultry—H. H. Kauffman, in charge of poultry extension work at the Pennsylvania State college, suggests making hay for feeding the poultry flock. Good leafy hay provides essential vitamins, proteins, and minerals. It may be chopped in lengths of 1 to 4 inches and fed on the floor or in racks.

Practice Fast Picking—Save time and motions picking tomatoes, urges James O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist at the Pennsylvania State college. Pick with both hands close together and take as many tomatoes in each hand as possible before moving them to the hamper.

Kill the Rats—J. O. Pepper, head of extension entomology, the Pennsylvania State college, urges grain conservation by killing rats. He suggests cleaning up the hiding places, trapping, and poison—with Red Squill bait.

Prune Young Trees—Pruning of young forest trees assures clear, straight trunks and a better timber crop, according to W. W. Simonds, in charge of forestry extension at Penn State.

Feed Sows Well—If fall litters are to be strong and well developed, brood sows must be fed well during the last two months before farrowing. Some grain and animal protein permit a half to three-quarters pound gain a day. Ample shade and fresh water also are "musts" for all swine during hot weather.

More 4-H Dairy Calves—Entries in the five district 4-H dairy calf shows to be held at as many different points in the state late this month and in September may exceed 400 and set an all-time record. Because of the uniformly high quality of these animals, competition for the ribbon prizes is expected to be particularly close.

Late Blight Spreads—Wet weather and cool nights contribute to the spread of late blight on tomatoes. County agricultural agents can supply full information on blight control measures.

Provide Poultry Range—Poultry extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State college say that an acre of good range will carry 500 to 600 pullets up to 22 weeks of age. From 100 to 200 turkey poults can be carried on a like area until they attain considerable size.

Protect Livestock — Pastures infested with water hemlock and poison hemlock, both poisonous weeds, should be fenced off to protect livestock, warns George H. Berggren, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college. Snakeroot and bracken fern also will poison livestock.

New Oxford

New Oxford — Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Staub have purchased the home in New Oxford occupied by his brother, Richard. The newlyweds plan to enlarge the house and make their home there. Mrs. Staub was formerly Miss Mary Fay Sheffer, R. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart E. Sheffer, Sr., East Berlin.

Fred G. Klunk spent Wednesday on a fishing trip to Indian River, Del.

The husband and family of Mrs. Leslie E. Reinecker, near Pine Run, arranged a surprise party for her last week at home in observance of her birthday. Assisting Mr. Reinecker and their daughter, Mary, in the entertainment was another daughter, Mrs. Robert Perry, Hanover, with Mr. Perry and their children Lana Anne and Jay Robert. Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Cashman and children, Shirley Ann and Allen, Lancaster; Mrs. Anna L. Cashman, Abbottstown, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Felix Sanders, this place.

Mrs. Vena Reber, who was a hospital patient at Hanover for the second time within ten months, has now returned home.

Gambling Figure Slain By Blast

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 9 (AP) — Police today faced an old problem of scanty clues, but this time they were looking for the killer of gambler Herbert Noble—not the attempted slayer. The "Cat" ran out of luck on Tuesday as the twelfth attempt on his life—a cleverly hidden explosive—let loose with a thunderous roar.

The silver-haired, self-styled retired gambler was killed as he stopped his car at a rural mail box near his fortress-like ranch. The killer—or killers—hid in a scrub oak thicket some 75 yards away, then touched off a devilishly-hidden land mine.

The blast underneath Noble's automobile left it a crumbled wreckage and scattered bits of the 42-year-old gambler's body over a wide area.

At least eleven times Noble had escaped death, but not injury, and this earned him the nickname "The Cat." He blamed "hired killers" for the attempts and said there was an underworld price of $50,000 on his head.

News Briefs

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 9 (AP)—A sixth Allentown law enforcement officer has been held on moral charges involving a teen-age girl. Patrolman Thomas McHugh, 30, was arrested yesterday and ordered suspended from the Allentown police force pending a hearing Monday on the charges. He was accused of a serious offense with a 17-year-old girl on probation from an institution in the Allentown area. She was not further identified.

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP) — An administration-backed bill to decentralize the state's public health program from the state to the county level has moved to the Senate floor. The measure, drafted by the state Health Department and approved by Gov. John S. Fine, won approval of the Senate Public Health and Welfare Department last night. It has been passed by the house and is now in position for a vote sometime next week.

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP)—The windshields of the motorists won't be dirtied by spray from trucks under a measure passed by the General Assembly on Tuesday. The bill, sent to Gov. John S. Fine for his approval, would require trucks to be equipped with rear mud flaps to keep spray from flying higher than 22½ degrees above the level of the road.

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP) — Senator Benton (D.-Conn.) said Wednesday he will pass for a showdown on his demands for a Senate investigation to determine whether Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) should be expelled.

Benton suggested in a Senate speech on Monday that McCarthy should resign. As an alternative, he introduced a resolution proposing an investigation of the Wisconsin lawmaker's activities to determine whether the Senate should oust him.

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP) — Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 80,430 Wednesday, an increase of 351 since last week. This is the smallest rise since the first weekly summary last August.

East Germany Has New Cycle Police

Berlin (AP) — Squads of tough, hard-riding motorcycle cops are prowling the highways of East Germany.

It is a new arm of the Communist people's police assigned for the moment to traffic control. The black-booted men, equipped with fast cycles and wearing sharp, black uniforms, look as though they could quickly be converted into an army courier service, however.

The squads have been observed in action particularly on the autobahn (superhighway) that links Berlin and West Germany, crossing 100 miles of Soviet zone. The cops are grim looking but courteous enough. They have taken to flagging down some allied vehicles recently, but each case appeared to be the same — warning about bad spots in the road ahead and cautioning a lower speed for safety's sake.

"BEYOND THE BORDER"

Calais, Me. (AP) — This Down East Maine city is one of the few communities in the nation getting its water supply from another country. Since 1906, Calais, population 4,600 — has received its water from St. Stephen, New Brunswick, just across the Canadian border.

In China, monkeys were once used in a phase of harvesting tea crops.

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—The move by Senator Benton (D-Conn) to expel Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) from the Senate was put in the hands today of the same Senate subcommittee which denounced last fall's Maryland senatorial campaign and noted McCarthy's part in it.

The Senate rules committee at the same time approved by a vote of 9 to 3 the subcommittee's report which said a "despicable, 'back street' type of campaign" was run in behalf of John Marshall Butler, Republican, who defeated Senator Millard Tydings, Democrat, in Maryland.

Fire Report Goes Long Way Around

Missoula, Mont. (AP) — Forest Service officials were puzzled when they received a report of a forest fire at Lolo Hot Springs. The report came from Huntley 400 miles across Montana.

They made sure the fire was under control, then learned two Missoula radio amateurs had gone into the moutains to test portable radio equipment. They spotted the blaze but couldn't contact the Forest Service. So they broadcast their report. It was heard in Huntley by another radio ham who relayed the information to the Forest Service.

Use Anti-Biotics On Livestock Pests

Washington, D. C., (AP) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that outstanding gains have been made against livestock and poultry parasites through the use of anti-biotic drugs.

The department states for example that a program, recommended by the Bureau of Animal Industry, has resulted in control of roundworms in sheep. The bureau advised sheepowners to mix a pound of the chemical, phenothiazine, with every nine pounds of salt eaten by the flock. The medicine has proven a safe and effective worm remover and owners have reported that sheep treated with the chemical have made satisfactory gains in weight. Similar experiments, including the administration of vitamin B-12 in diets of pigs and chickens have also been conducted with good results, the department says.

Seek Hearing For New Oleo Measure

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP)—Farm interests are striving to win a public hearing on a new bill legalizing the sale of colored oleomargarine to Pennsylvania housewives.

The bill popped up in the Legislature this week behind strong bipartisanship backing after farm forces had successfully beaten down several other oleo measures.

The public hearing was requested by the Pennsylvania state Grange. The move was interpreted by some Legislature quarters as a maneuver to slow down the swift passage of the bill through the General Assembly.

The measure, which would permit the sale of colored oleo to housewives in packages of one pound or less, is now in position for a final House vote Monday. A similar measure was approved by the Senate Agriculture committee yesterday.

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP) — Senator O'Conor (D-Md) said today he will ask the Senate crime investigating committee to consider bringing contempt citations against witnesses who balked at telling about gambling in Scranton, Pa.

Joseph Scalleat, of Hazleton, Pa., and Joseph Size and Joseph Baldassari, of Scranton, refused to answer most questions put to them at a public hearing yesterday. They appeared before a subcommittee of the crime committee, headed by O'Conor.

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP)—Inmates of state institutions would be allowed to donate their eyes after death to blind persons under a bill before the House today. The measure was introduced by Rep. Jules Filo (D-Allegheny).

It would authorize the authorities in charge of state institutions, upon request of any inmate, to make all the necessary arrangements for an operation to be performed after the death of the inmate to transplant the cornea of the eyes of the inmate to those of a blind person.

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP) — Pennsylvania's municipal primary election would be moved up from July to May in odd years under a new House bill, Rep. Charles C. Smith (R.-Phil.), House GOP floor leader, introduced a proposal to change the primary in odd numbered years from the fourth Tuesday in July to the third Tuesday in May.

The purpose would be, Smith said, to give people more time to campaign and consider candidates.

Argentina, Australia and New Zealand exceed the U. S. in per capita civilian meat consumption, according to the National Geographic Society.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Rome (AP) — Italian postal savings totaled about $1,200,000,000 on June 30, 1951, an increase of 74,200,000,000 lires, compared with the total on December 31, 1950.

Rome's financial newspaper, "Il Globo," said the increase reflects Italian confidence in the stability of the lire.

PREPARING SOIL FOR LAWNS

Inquiries from readers over the last three weeks indicate greatly revived interest in lawn building and repair. Therefore, because seeding time is in early September, it is here timely to repeat advice offered in the past and make plain the practical steps in both phases of this important work.

For building a new lawn it is necessary to provide an ample supply of fertile field, garden or fence row loam sufficient to compose a stratum 8 to 14 inches or more of fairly fertile, mellow, humus-filled loam to serve as a moisture reservoir in dry weather and a drainage medium in wet periods. Usually this beneath-the-roots layer of loam is the main key to a durable, beautiful stand of grass. For repairing a tired old lawn the same role is played by loam beneath the rooting stratum.

Of course, such loam, whether it is obtained from a farm field, garden or fence row is likely to contain countless weed seeds which, unless they are previously removed, may germinate to pollute the lawn with unwanted, unsightly weeds. Methods of removal are extremely simple if the soil is obtained at this time of the year or at least a month before it is to be used in the lawn.

The soil should be spread in a rectangular area to a depth of about one foot or less and the entire surface watered liberally to promote germination of weed seed. This will occur in a few days. When the weeds are one to three inches high they should be pulled out and thrown on the compost heap and the soil stirred deeply or turned to expose a new volume of seed-infested soil to the surface. Again water to hasten seed germination. After repeating this process several times until all viable weed seeds are germinated, the soil will be relatively free from all foreign growths. The involved labor is considerably less than this advice suggests.

How much soil is required for lawn building or repairing?

The answer to this question depends, of course, on conditions of the present soil. In most cases where a new lawn is started, the original area is covered several inches or feet deep with subsoil taken from basement and foundation trenches. Here should be spread a layer of fairly good loam to a depth of at least 12 to 14 inches, a loam capable of holding moisture and promoting good drainage. Then the surface should be finished off with 3 to 4 inches of fertile loam. On this point it is important to remember that grass seldom roots deeper than 2½ to 3 inches. Thus a lawn measuring 40 to 60 feet would require approximately 82 cubic yards of soil to coat it to a depth of one foot. One-fourth as much would be needed to coat the surface with good loam for the grass-rooting stratum.

For general repairing where the old lawn is failing for lack of organic matter in the soil, and this is the chief cause of established lawns failing, the quantity of repair loam needed depends on how hard and impoverished the present soil is. In the main, where a lawn is seriously run down, about half as much good loam is needed to repair it as is usually required to build a new lawn of equal size.

What about manure for lawn building or repair?

The major value of manure in these roles is to furnish needed organic matter (humus). If this can be supplied by fertile, weed-free loam, the builder or repairer will gain more and better organic matter and at the same time avoid the weed evil present in livestock manures.

COMPOST MAKING IS IN ORDER

Too much and too frequent emphasis can scarcely be placed on the wisdom and practicality of making compost for soil protection and improvement. More and more, as machines supplant horses in cities and on farms, and particularly with increasing numbers of suburban residents turning to vegetable gardening, compost manufacture from waste vegetation takes on greater importance in man's struggle for economic survival. Perhaps every discussion of the worth of compost should be prefaced with the statement of fact that all living organisms depend on the thin layer of humus-bearing soil that covers the earth's land surface. Should this be suddenly removed, all life would probably become extinct in a single year. This is not an unfair measure by which to compute the intrinsic value of a compost heap.

Compost is mentioned again here because many weeds may still be utilized profitably and safely on the heap, weeds which, if not used at once, will soon ripen their seeds and thereby compel gardeners and farmers to burn them instead of turning them into humus. Last summer, as an example, probably in late July or early August, the editor visited a small suburban farm operated by an inexperienced city couple who were suffering their first season on the land. They asked what they should do with a small field crowded with immature ragweeds. Their concern stemmed from a hay fever standpoint. We advised them to cut the weeds at once and turn them into compost.

Last week we visited this farm again. They showed us where they had rotted the accumulated weeds in several huge heaps and where last spring they placed the compost under on a rather poor, thin soil down a gentle slope where sweet corn, snap beans and Lima beans are now growing. The line was distinctly visible where the compost application began and ended. On the improved soil the bean and corn foliage was a darker green; above and below the improved area dry weather was already taking a heavy toll.

Any kind of weeds may be used on compost heaps, providing they do not contain borers and have not started to ripen their seeds. In this usable group are scores of intruding weeds which are nuisances until they begin their journey into rotted organic matter. Of course, grass clippings, fallen leaves, and any other waste vegetation that does not carry communicable plant diseases or harbor borers may be wisely and profitably included.

Many authorities advise against the practice of adding lime to compost heaps because the fermenting vegetation may thereby release much of its nitrogen supply to escape into the air. For the same reason fresh wood ashes or fresh stable manure should not be included in the heap. But alternate layers of vegetation and fertile loam (about 3 inches of loam) make an excellent heap, with the sides kept vertical and the top level or slightly concave to catch and retain water. A few handfuls of complete fertilizer, plus some nitrate of soda, added every few layers will hasten decay while the soil tends to hold the soluble nutrients.

Into the concave basin formed on top the heap a few buckets of water should be poured every few days in dry weather to improve compost quality and speed up the processes of decay. Too, the heap should be turned inside out and upside down two or three times a year to render the compost uniform in texture. The drier the materials are when placed on the heap the longer the time required for decay.

The peach was first grown in China, and named in Persia.

Push More Truth To Reds, Senator Urges

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Senator McMahon (D.-Conn.) said today the U.S. should lose no time in thrusting more truth into the iron curtain crack made by Russian broadcasts of American friendship overtures.

The Moscow radio yesterday broadcast the text of a "friendship resolution" passed by Congress, as well as it transmittal letter by President Truman.

At about the same time, the United States was rejecting as "a propaganda trap" a Russian proposal for a five-power "peace" pact and accusing the Kremlin of violating obligations "to such an extent that the world has lost confidence in the Soviet's respect for treaties."

McMahon, one of the authors of the resolution expressing American friendship for the Russian people, said its broadcast was a victory for the free world. "Now that we have cracked the iron curtain, we must keep at efforts to tell the Russian people the truth about what is going on in the world," he declared.

Impatience, negligence and incompetence—the three cardinal sins of the gasoline wastrel—are costing Pennsylvania motorists more than $210,000,000 annually or about $77 for each vehicle owner, according to a recently published study of one of America's topflight automotive engineers.

After a series of controlled mileage tests the survey showed that the average motorist gets less than half the motoring miles he should out of a gallon of gasoline.

The primary causes of gasoline wastage are speed, mechanical negligence and sloppy driving habits.

There is one fact of great economic importance which will bear repeating over and over again. It is this: the owners of industry receive a very modest return for their investment in the plants which provide employment and goods and services and taxes which keep this country going.

Last year, to take an actual example, a large corporation which makes household appliances, light bulbs, turbines and dozens of other products used by individual consumers and industry, had total sales of more than $1,613,000,000.

Its employes earned almost $606,700,000 during the year.

Government, through taxes, collected $152,100,000.

The corporation's net profit came to a little more than $125,600,000.

In other words, government's take was almost $27,000,000 more than the profit—and the employes' earnings were nearly five times as great as the profit.

Furthermore, only a part of the profit went to the owner-stockholders. Net earnings per share of common stock were $.36. But dividends declared were only $2.50. All well-managed businesses must, as a general rule, hold back a large proportion of the profits for plant investment, working capital and other purposes.

The profit received by industry's owners is one of the smallest factors in the cost of the goods and services we buy.

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP) — A package of appropriation bills totaling $870,000 to help pay operational costs of state agencies and state-aided institutions went to the Senate Tuesday after winning House approval.

The bills supplement a big package of appropriation measures sent to the Senate several months ago. The Senate has been holding up action on all appropriation bills pending solution of its tax stalemate.

TOUGH TO KEEP LIVING COSTS UNDER CONTROL

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—Trying to keep down living costs is like trying to sit on a pail of steam. And now just a little more steam has escaped.

Railroads have been allowed to raise their freight rates, nine per cent in the east and six per cent in the south and west. They got permission yesterday from the ICC, the Interstate Commerce Commission. Since this, of course, raises the cost of shipping goods, the shippers will want to boost the price of their goods to pay for the added cost.

But the retailer who buys from the shipper will get stuck unless he can tack on this higher price to the goods which finally are sold to you.

Last Buyer Gets Stuck

So you get stuck, the consumer. You're the last buyer.

That's a simplified explanation of how prices will rise as a result of the ICC ruling. But right away a couple of things come to mind:

1. I thought we had a new price control law to keep prices down.

2. I thought OPS—Office of Price Stabilization—was supposed to sit on prices.

3. How come, if we have OPS, the ICC can do something which will let prices go up?

No Control Over ICC

OPS has absolutely no control over anything done by the ICC which is a long-established agency whose job is deciding what freight rates ought to be. And the price control law passed by Congress flatly said the law does not apply to ICC.

When the railroads asked ICC's permission to raise freight rates, ICC called hearings to let the railroads explain why they needed an increase.

OPS officials went to the hearings and told the members of ICC what the effect on inflation and living costs would be if freight rates went up.

Some Need OPS Okay

But they didn't, since they couldn't, attempt to tell ICC what to do. So the latter wasn't working in the day it approved an increase of nine per cent in the east for the roads and six per cent in the south and west.

How will the increased shipping costs finally be passed on to the buying public?

An OPS economist said the methods used for passing on the increases will have to vary because there are various OPS price regulations.

He said that in some cases, such as food, the increases may be passed on automatically.

In others businessmen handling the shipped goods must, before adding the extra cost to their price, get OPS permission to do so.

Attorney, Judge Will Help Cadet

Harrisburg, Aug. 9 (AP) — Attorney John McI. Smith, former selective service director for Pennsylvania, went to Washington Wednesday where he will see that West Point Cadet Gilbert M. Reich "gets a fair deal."

Reich, of nearby Steelton, is one of a group of cadets at the U. S. military academy who has admitted being involved in violations of the academy's honor code.

Smith said he is volunteering his services and that while in Washington he will "interview the proper authorities and see that young Reich's interests are served and protected."

President Judge J. Paul Rupp, of Dauphin County Common Pleas court, also has come to Reich's defense. Rupp, former football coach at Steelton high where Reich was a grid star, said, "I want to offer my services in his (Reich's) behalf."

Barreling Over Falls Is Banned By Ontario

Toronto, Aug. 9 (AP)—The province of Ontario has forbidden anyone to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

In the wake of the death of William Hill, Jr., last Sunday while making such an attempt, Ontario's Premier Leslie Frost told police to prevent any further tries.

'In my opinion, such attempts are wholly undesirable from the standpoint of public interest. They add nothing to human knowledge and will be prevented insofar as it is within the power of the province to do so," he said.

Despite the premier's order, there was no indication whether New York interior decorator Leslie Sander had abandoned his plan to ride the 165-foot falls in a metal barrel on August 25.

Sander dropped out of sight two weeks ago after coming here to make preparations for his trip.

Huge Cotton Crop Predicted By U. S.

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Agriculture Department, in its first forecast of the current cotton crop, Wednesday estimated it at 17,266,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This near-record crop is 7,214,000 bales more than the 10,012,000-bale short crop produced last year. It also is much larger than the ten-year (1940-49) average of 12,030,000 bales.

The government had appealed for a crop of at least 16,000,000 bales to replenish supplies which had been cut to a low level under defense program demands. Exports have been restricted because of the supply situation.

The largest crop ever produced was 18,946,000 bales in 1937.

A big boost in the crop had been expected by the cotton markets, as evidenced by the fact that prices have dipped rather sharply from a ceiling of 45.76 cents a pound.

OLD HOME CHANGES HANDS

Sweden, Mo. (AP)—The home of Col. Samuel Neyers built here in 1797 has passed for the first time from ownership of direct descendants of the town's original settler. It has been bought by Mr. and Mrs. George J. Strong of Montclair, N. J., as a permanent home. The last to occupy it were Ethelbert Bennett and his son, Charles. Charles is the great-great-grandson of Col. Nevers.
